

RECKENRIDGE NEWS.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One-half page, first insertion, $1.00
Second insertion, .50
Marriage, birth and death notices, free.
Obituaries and tributes of respects, 3 cents per line.

Business, local, 1 cent per line, and 3 cents per line.

Literary comments can be made for large advertising rates to be inserted more than once.

For further information address,
J. D. BABBAGE, Publisher.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1883

PERSONAL.

Mr. C. W. Clever went to Louisville Sunday.

Dr. T. N. Warfield went to Louisville Saturday.

Mr. Nelson Jolley and wife were in town.

Mrs. Anna Murphy returned from Louisville Sunday.

Mrs. Georgia White returned from Endicott Saturday.

Mr. H. M. Logsdon, of Rockport, Ind., was here Tuesday.

Dr. J. P. Lewis has gone to Arkansas on a "vacation."

Dr. Hugh Kennedy and Parke arrived from Louisville Sunday.

Mr. C. M. Dean and wife, of Owensboro, were at the Goshen Hotel Thursday.

Mr. Louis Howard, of Jeffersonville, Ind., is in town.

Mr. D. M. Fairleigh, of Brandenburg, was here and at Hardinsburg, Friday, on legal business.

Mr. W. H. Webb, of Louisville, was in town Sunday. He reports the tobacco market heavy.

Mr. C. M. McMillahan, of Union Star, and Mr. W. H. McMillahan, of Webster, were in town last week.

Mr. Roland Smith and wife, of Hardinsburg, spent a week visiting friends at New Haven, N. Y.

Mr. W. T. Wortham and wife, of Lettschfield, were on a visit to their father-in-law, "Squire" E. D. Dean, this week.

Miss Mary Ann, of Brandenburg, was in town Saturday and Sunday, on her way to visit her mother, Mr. W. J. Robertson.

LOCAL BREVIETES.

The river is rising.
Dried fruit is dull.

Thanksgiving on the 29th.

Fine frosty mornings, these.

Court of claims meets next Monday.

Cors are selling for wagons at 40 cents.

Birdseye is quite active, and so are the bakers.

Several loads of new tobacco came in Monday.

Circuit court at Hawesville is still in session.

"Gold Brick" is the name of a down town saloon.

Mr. Nelson Jolley sold his apple crop this year at 25¢.

Bickey & Wilson are preparing to open their saloon.

Mr. J. H. Moorman's new house on the hill is completed.

Mr. Eli Dean will ship 150 bags to Cincinnati this week.

Don't give the L. St. and Texas out. She is dead.

Albert LaHuis says he will finish his house by Christmas.

George Farber is carrying the mail from here to Owensboro.

The town is full of farmers Monday, ready for the market.

Warning—Two or three bunches of potato onions, at this office.

Rev. J. H. Lampton filled his regular appointment here last Sunday.

E. A. Baldwin has two horses loaded with staves ready for shipment.

Col. Allen was making his fat old sides out of elephant skin.

The Jackson Gothic is the regular U. S. mail post for Louisville today.

Saving flyer and Mr. Wm. Wirt have moved their office to D. H. Day's.

Mr. White had an order last Saturday for two dozen of his "White" hats.

People are buying up Mr. C. D. Dean's farm on Rock Lick for $5,000.

Mr. Robinson says he is building a cage, and when completed he wants a cage for it.

This is fine weather for gathering corn, and the farmers are all taking advantage of it.

Sixteen thousand barrels of apples have been shipped from Stephenport this season.

Mr. Hamman had a large load of lumber to sink at the landing Saturday night.

Don't plant your onions in the light of the moon. If you do, you may expect nothing but weeds.

"Old Red" Lightfoot is the only young man in town that can whistle with a cigar in his mouth.

It is estimated that the apple crop of this county will amount to more than the tobacco crop.

The larger shipment from this port have been steadily in increase this season, and it still goes on.

Green apples are being delivered here from the Falls of Rough, a distance of twenty miles.

Mr. J. D. Babbage sold his fine short-horn bull calf to Mr. Dan Brooks, of Meade county, for $25.00.

Thirty thousand bushels of coal have been shipped from here in this city, mostly for local consumption.

There was a very small attendance at the Sunday School mass meeting held in the Baptist church last Sunday.

Mr. Eli Dean is taking an appeal on the suit he filed against him in the Breckinridge circuit court last term.

Mr. F. Fraize is improving his Jersey by building a new barn, and enclosing it with a barbed wire fence.

The coal market has increased the price of anthracite to 40 cents per bushel. This advance will make the price now 124 cents.

The parsonage has been treated to a new roof, and the ladies have refurnished the inside with new carpets and furniture.

It is a two-story house, built of Mr. Goss' stone blocks, on the corner of Hill and Second streets, instead of a lower story.

Mr. C. D. Tracy, 716 W. Chestnut street, Louisville, Ky., says: "I have a brown horse, and I find him and feed him mainly relieved."

Mr. J. D. Bates, the popular dentist, will arrive in this city on the 19th inst., and be found at his office during the ensuing week.

Mr. Jas. G. Stephens, of Holt, is adding this fall two thousand "apple trees" to his large orchard, which yielded him $1,600 for the year.

In Bradshaw, of Stephenport, is putting this fall, two thousand apple trees on his farm near that place. He has already a number of them.

Mr. Clark Shadell, formerly of Cleveland, is running an opera house in Clarendon, Texas. Something on the order of the Buckingham in London.

The Cincinnati and Louisville market, Atlanta, has reached high time. She passes here going down on Friday and going up on Monday mornings.

Mr. Chas. E. Patterson gathered over of the men who had come to town weighed two pounds. The ground had been in cultivation for sixty years.

Mr. Henry Gregory has been appointed Saturday night warden. His duty is to see that the younger children left home for school.

Mr. Dr. White's Drug Store, now offering the greatest bargains in Linen and other Millinery goods. Call and examine her.

The protest protracted meeting that has been at New Rothel church, in this county, for the past two weeks, closed yesterday, with seven additions to the church.

Henry Weatherhead and Hick Willis started Sunday after the thief that swapped him a stolen horse. It is to be hoped that the horse will be well and bring a quick kick.

Capt. Lloyd Whaley, the accomodating master of the Grey Eagle, held his boat at the wharf Saturday morning, and gave passengers time to witness the closing exercises of the Exposition.

Henry Weatherhead swapped horses with a stranger last evening, and turned his back on the horse he got, so that the owner along Sunday and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. James Goff was turning and working one of the Cincinnati cigar companies' papers in the cigar room of the Marion, Monday morning. A boy, named Eddie, came along and claimed his property, and it is now set out his horse and carriages.

The steers of the Elm Street Methodist church met Monday night, and a church conference will be held, Thursday, in connection with regular prayer meetings. All members are requested to attend.

</div

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

LETTER FROM LOUISVILLE.

Louisville, Nov. 9.—The latest advice from Washington was that Maj. Craughuaugh must go. The major has acquired a good deal of notoriety recently. Every daily paper has been writing something to say about Craughuaugh, as though he were a lord of creation. Why, you should have heard the able speech of H. W. Houston, of Paducah, in his defense in the federal district court. He said that the reason he remembered that a couple of weeks ago Craughuaugh was on trial in that court charged with having used official opportunities to transmit his private letters through the mail. Here it was that H. W. Houston landed him to very little. Said he that the president of the United States, the secretary of the navy, and the secretary of the treasury were not superior to the major in intelligence. In fact, said he, very few men in this country are superior to him. He was educated, and well qualified to fill the office of secretary of the navy, as every intelligent man in the country knows. His growing, talkative, malicious curs that appeared against him on the witness stand didn't think so. Their only hope was to get the major out of his high office. They would slip behind him and talk of his life-habits, if necessary, to account for his behavior. "Oh!" said Houston.

"the president of the United States would roll back this tribe of hungry office-seekers. He would say to them, 'Back to your desks howling beasts and let this man (the major) go his way.' But, instead of the president, it was the secretary of the war who will bring him down."

I wanted to see Vera Cruz, so I went to the climate of Vera Cruz, a slightly tinted with malaria at all seasons of the year, and I was anxious to come home when I left the white settlements. We found a drug store with difficulty, and, upon going in, I was told that the only drug store in the business, aside from the distant color of 10,000 different smells, was the appearance of the drug clerk. He was a long-necked young man, with repulsively odious hair and eyes like a gazelle's.

"What am I to do?" asked the Mexican lengthily, "what is wrong?" I asked Capt. Wicks; "and, by the way, what a telephone pole of a neck he has got on him. Looks like a giraffe."

"Oh, a swan," suggested Wicks. "See how he is greased." I observed, "Just think how ready to be swallowed he is."

"He does that," said Wicks, "and what a magnificent sign he makes for an apothecary shop."

"What a champion he would make to run a sausage staffer," I continued; "but what a swan-like a backside!"

"Just for pictures," said Wicks; "that's Spanish for pigs."

I knew that bonfire meant man, so I walked right up to him, and said:

"Bonfire pidores!"

"All right!" said that blessed drug clerk, with a smile like a barber's pole; "what will you give me?"

Brown's liver pills, compound cathartic or Tarrat's great and only liver pills on earth?

We have them all, and you can sample them if you like; and if I ever get you off by yourself, you talk-faced, knock-faced galloping horse, I'll give you a good head, or, by the goodness of the republican party. In 1884 there will be a new deal. God grant that it may prove a certain retribution.

Saturday, November 10, three hours later, the great Southwestern exposition. It has been a success for Louisville and her citizens and her various marks of trade. During the last two weeks there has been a continual stream of visitors pouring in here from all directions. This, the last week, an equal number are looking for. This morning the convention drift from point to point of interest, like a freighted bark along a rugged coast. Mr. Ingerson on Success.

Drifting along the convention drift from point to point of interest, like a freighted bark along a rugged coast. Mr. Ingerson on Success.

"Fame, sir, is a fleeting thing. Men drop out of sight and are forever forgotten. I do not see why these men want to be forgotten."

"Did you ever have any such aspirations?"

"When I was a young man I had ambitions. I have found that the career which comes to a man in a place like that of president of the U.S. Senate, or the like, is not like to break off. It is determined that he will succeed. And he will succeed."

"I am sure that he will succeed, but he has not yet visited that exposition."

There is a call upon all business men in the city to close their various branches of business at 12 o'clock m.

all, turn out en masse, and make it a hollow day. A gun will be fired every hour throughout the day. There will be speeches, music and song, and a grand haldey at the close.

I witnessed a personal difficulty between Judge T. L. Burnett and Mr. George M. Davies in the hall of the courthouse, a few days ago. Burnett was in a hurry and seemed to have to leave in a hurry.

Judge Burnett struck a John L. Sullivan attitude, and let fly one of his fists at Davies. At this juncture both gentlemen's fine plug hats rolled on to the floor, and things got lively. Davies got in one or two licks under Burnetts' shorts, caused a general commotion, and then turned tail and try to draw his pistol, but other parties interceded.

Mr. Will Watkins, of Clerviewport, is at present a dry goods department at Sharp & Son.

Mr. R. R. Pierce is in the city looking after the interests of the L. S. & T. R. R. Negotiations are being rapidly pushed to a determination of the building of this road.

BEARBRIDGE'S CREEK.

People are all done sowing wheat, and are getting ploughed and harrowed today.

Mr. Joss. Whittley and two little chil- dren, Master Harry and Willie, from Ten-nessee, are visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity.

Don't forget to call on Brown for potas- toef. He has a large quantity of early Root.

Jewell's Creek is improving. It sent out to the fair this is the fastest horse that has ever been in the country, and owned by V. G. Morgan.

Is ready, "Squire Jim." — Mr. A. is making ready with his wagon load of wood, men, and perhaps you can find a place among them.

Miss Mattie claims an interest in Mr. J. — a house, and as if the house had been built to fit to roost at home, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss Ross are played out, but fair terms.

Our candidate for constable, who has been running for two years, is still on the track.

The first year he got 14 votes, and the second year he got 13. He is still in the race, and goes over there and stays there four days at a time, and Mr. J. — makes two or three trips before getting it.

Boos.—To the wife of Mr. Williamson Brown, a big boy.

William says he and Miss